DAY
1

Welcome to Cheese Country

Meet your guides at the Woerden train station for a quick transfer to the village of De Hoef. The adventure begins with lunch—perhaps you'll taste your first bitterballen or Dutch pancake—followed by bike fitting and safety talk. We'll set off on our first ride, following bike lanes through beautiful landscapes that look the same as when painters captured them in the Dutch Golden Age. Upon arriving in Woerden, check into our boutique hotel for a taste of genuine Dutch hospitality. After a stroll through the charming main square, we'll head to a nearby town for dinner at a cozy local restaurant.

Having a Goed Time in Gouda

This morning, we'll have a typical Dutch breakfast of wentelteefjes (French toast)—perfect fuel for a day of riding! We're headed to the city of Gouda: synonymous with its cheese, of course, but also known for tasty, sweet stroopwafels and stunning 15th-century Gothic architecture. Cycle on verdant country lanes and typical Dutch polders (dike-enclosed lowlands), followed by a snack stop in a picturesque town along the route. Once we roll into Gouda, switch gears for a scavenger hunt that feels like a game of real-life Pac-Man in the city's labyrinthine streets. Lunch is served at a favorite local restaurant before we head back to the hotel—either by van or on the bike, if you're interested in some extra miles. For dinner, we'll head to our guides' favorite restaurant in Woerden, a city sandwiched between Amsterdam and Utrecht, then make stroopwafels for dessert.

Utrecht's Castles

Leave the countryside behind and wave to cows, ducks, and sheep as we cycle north to the vibrant city of Utrecht. Head to Kasteel de Haar, one of the most beautiful castles in Holland. The first buildings on this site were recorded in 1391, but in more modern times an extensive renovation was funded by the Rothschild family—their wealth has afforded painstaking detail and splendor that's visible in every aspect of the castle's architecture. Our next stop is a local goat farm, where we'll feed the goats and enjoy a picnic on the grounds. Afterward, join a workshop to paint our own klomps (traditional wooden shoes), then pedal the last eight miles back into the center of Utrecht to check into our hotel. This evening we dine together in Utrecht.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Woerden, Utrecht

Accomplished: 15 miles / 24 km, elevation gain: 335 feet / 102 meters

Accommodations: Grand Hotel Karel V or Mother Goose

DAY

Dutch Canals

Today we'll trade our bikes for a kayak and paddle through Utrecht's iconic canals for a unique view from the water. These famous waterways were man-made during the Golden Age to accommodate trade ships and transport, and we'll follow them all the way to Fort Rhijnauwen. Built to defend Utrecht against attacks, the fort could once accommodate up to 540 soldiers and 105 canons! Our last stop is lunch at a waterfront restaurant serving delicious crepes in a charming garden setting. Tonight, we'll head back to Utrecht where you're free to find a restaurant that appeals to your family for dinner.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch

Accomplished: 4 miles / 7 km kayaking

Optional Ride: 9 miles / 15 km, elevation gain: 148 feet / 45 meters

Windmill Loop

Our ride today will take us north, weaving alongside Utrecht's many waterways and through the quaint villages that freckle the countryside. We'll stop at a working windmill where our friend Joop shows us around inside and explains how these ubiquitous structures keep the locals' feet dry by pumping water away from the lowlands. If you're ready to keep pedaling, head back to Utrecht beside the Rijn river and enjoy lunch at a casual (but delicious!) local spot. Something truly special is planned for our final evening: our friend and local chef Laura will prepare a scrumptious meal in her home. As we say in Dutch, Smakelijk eten!
