Welcome to Catalonia

Meet your DuVine guides at the Vilafant high-speed train station near the city of Figueras. Located just south of the French border, Figueras is the capital of the Alt Empordà and the birthplace of Salvador Dalí, so a guided visit to his museum is a must. We'll remain in Figueras for lunch at our favorite tapas bar, sampling bite-sized dishes like gazpacho and spicy patatas bravas. After checking into our first hotel and getting fitted to our bikes, a short warm-up ride follows quiet, tree-lined country roads with views of the Pyrenees. Toast a week of adventure with a glass of local Cava before tonight's gourmet dinner at our hotel restaurant.

Catalan Cuisine

Today we ride south out of the Alt Empordà region and over rolling plains into the Baix Empordà. Our route passes rural villages, hushed landscapes, and the ancient ruins of Ullastret before we reach the pretty village of Palau-Sator. Here, our friend Maria and her family prepare lunch for us in the garden of her restaurant, which specializes in traditional Catalan cuisine with a hint of her Argentine heritage. It's a short, easy spin to our next luxury hotel: take a dip in the pool or arrange a treatment at the spa before we reconvene for dinner at the hotel's gastronomic restaurant.

Medieval Village Loop

Our ride today is a tour of charming medieval villages. First up: the town of Peratallada with its time-worn cobbled streets and stone buildings trellised in blooming bougainvillea. Our next stop is the ancient plaza in Monells, where we'll pause for coffee or cold beer. Get back on the bike and continue pedaling to our friend Yassim's home for a cooking demonstration that transforms regional ingredients into seasonal dishes. From here, catch a ride back to the hotel in the van or hit your miles for the day by biking the rest of the way there. This evening, we visit one of the Baix Empordà's most exclusive wine producers for a tour of their award-winning cellar, followed by an organic dinner set on the terrace of their refined estate.

Braving the Costa Brava

Today's Costa ride is short but Brava! We'll spin along the outskirts of Palafrugell to reach the village of Llafranc, pausing to appreciate a breathtaking view from the 150-year-old lighthouse. Tackle some short but challenging sections as we pass chic holiday homes, classic coastal vistas, and salty seaside villages on the approach to Begur, a beachfront town with a medieval castle at its historic center. Continue along the coast to an al fresco lunch at an oceanfront restaurant: our reward is gourmet tapas, crisp local rosé, and the best Mediterranean view around. If you're up for it, enjoy a celebratory swim in the sea before riding the rest of the way to the hotel, or take a lift in the van. The remainder of the days is yours to spend as you wish: camp out by the pool with a book, treat your legs to a massage, or explore the medieval town of Pals and have dinner at your leisure.

The Tossa Challenge

Begin the day with a transfer to the town of Sant Feliu de Guixols, the starting point for today's spectacular coastal ride. This road is a favorite of local Catalanian cyclists and pro riders alike—a rollercoaster ribbon of undulating pavement that clings to the coast, with Mediterranean views to keep you motivated. A long, glorious descent brings us right into the seaside town of Tossa de Mar, and the mood is right for a well-deserved drink at the beach. After, get a little lost in this 13th-century fortified city—the only one of its kind in Catalonia—or ride this morning's route in reverse back to Sant Feliu. A lovely, relaxed lunch awaits back at our historic hotel. On our last evening together, gather in the hotel bar beloved by Elizabeth Taylor, Ava Gardner, and Jack Nicholson to toast our wonderful week on the Costa Brava. We'll linger into the evening over a show-stopping meal right on the beach.
