Tour By Day

DAY
1

Welcome to Split!

Your guides will meet you in Split where your bike tour begins! After our bike fitting and safety review, we'll set off to ride along a quiet coastal road and be treated to our first glimpse of the stunning Adriatic. After a leisurely warm up, we'll return for an exclusive guided walking tour of Diocletian's, built at the turn of the 4th century BC, the castle offers a fascinating glimpse into this era of local history. Tonight we'll enjoy a true Croatian feast at a local restaurant that is a true hidden gem.

Destinations: Split, Marjan Hill

Accomplished: 11 miles / 17 km, elevation gain: 922 feet / 281 meters

Accommodations: Cornaro Hotel

2

Brač Island

This morning, board a speedboat en route to Brač, the largest island in Dalmatia. Our ride starts on the coastal roads alongside olive groves and vineyards. The precious white marble seen here was excavated and used in the building of the White House, Diocletian's Palace, and the Budapest Parliament. After lunch, stop into the Jakšić family gallery. The family is proud to keep ancient stonecutting traditions alive, and eager to share their personal style that keeps their craft timeless. Each Jakšić specializes in their own craft: Lovre is the master sculptor, Ida is a clothing and jewelry designer, and Dina is the resident painter. After our visit, bike back to Supetar where we catch the ferry back to Split. Your guides will provide you with a number of great dining options for you to choose from. Dobar tek!

3

Split and Hvar Island

Set off on a breathtaking boat ride to Hvar Island and start cycling in Stari Grad, passing endless rows of lavender and olive groves before reaching the water's edge. Weave in and out of small, crystal-blue coves of the Adriatic before arriving in the colorful seaside villages of Vrboska and Jelsa. For lunch today we learn to prepare traditional foods that represent the island's history. After lunch, loop back to Stari Grad: from here, you may continue riding all the way back to Hvar or catch a lift in the van. Tonight's dinner in town is full of fresh and vibrant Mediterranean flavors.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Split, Stari Grad, Hvar Town

Accomplished: 23 miles / 38 km, elevation gain: 1,640 feet / 500 meters

4

The Hvar Lavender Road

After enjoying a relaxing breakfast, you'll gear up to enjoy another stellar ride with unbelievable views of the seas that surround us. Today's ride takes us through abandoned villages that historically were prominent producers of the lavender products and oils that were once a trademark of Hvar Island. Soar down to the Stari Grad Plain, a UNESCO World Heritage site, and visit Dubokovic—one of Croatia's leading boutique wineries where we'll sip some standout pours. From here we will transfer back to Hvar town. Tonight our private boat will take us to the Paklinski Islands, where we will enjoy dinner in one of the most beautiful bays, overlooking endless blue seas.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Hvar, Stari Grad, Jelsa, Paklinski Otoci

Accomplished: 20 miles / 32 km, elevation gain: 1,807 feet / 551 meters

5

The Vineyards of Korčula

Today our private boat takes us across blue waters to Korčula, an ancient Greek colony dating back to the 4th century BC. Landing on the west coast in Vela Luka, we'll bicycle across the island to Korčula Town. Passing through miles of vineyards, we'll stop to taste the famed local white wines and enjoy a picnic lunch with the Farac family. Here we'll also sample some of their homemade local products. Arriving at the fortified Venetian village of Korčula Town, the birthplace of Marco Polo, we'll have the afternoon to explore the pedestrian-only streets or relax at our last hotel. Tonight we'll meet in Korčula for our final dinner.

Meals: Breakfast / Picnic Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Vela Luka, Korčula

Accomplished: 35 miles / 56 km, elevation gain: 2,801 feet / 854 meters

6

Korčula to Dubrovnik

En route to Dubrovnik, we'll discover some of the secrets of the Pelješac peninsula—home to Croatia's best-known red wines: Dingač and Postup. Stops along the way include a tasting of fresh oysters and a visit to the town of Ston, known for the longest fortified city wall in Europe and ancient salt works. After lunch in Mali Ston, we'll transfer to the stonewalls of Dubrovnik, one of the world's most beautifully preserved medieval cities. From here, your guides will send you off to meander the narrow streets of Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque architecture on your own, marking the end of our week together.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch

Destinations: Pelješac, Ston, Mali Ston, Dubrovnik
